Dear Stephen,

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to you and the staff of Anglin Reichmann Snellgrove & Armstrong for the outstanding support provided to our company.

As you know, you worked with Jesse Stutts, Inc. for several years prior to my partners, Jay Stutts and Bill Lee, and I purchasing it approximately four years ago. The construction experience that you offer is second to none and the advice and guidance that you have provided has proven to be rock solid.

The professionalism exhibited during the purchase phase, while providing the previous owner with tax advice and planning, as well as helping us structure a plan that would ensure the continued success of the business, was most impressive. I was convinced at this point that we had made the right choice with you and your firm. The assistance provided helped secure two things very vital to our success; one was a strong banking relationship and the other was information and communication provided to the bonding company that ensured we would maintain a strong position and be able to continue to pursue work best suited for our company.

The ever present personal support and sound financial advice provided has proven to be most valuable to our company. The relationship with our bank and bonding company has continued to grow stronger based on the timely and accurate information provided by your firm's professional staff.

Again, I want to say thank you for your guidance, support, and genuine friendship afforded by your firm.

Sincerely,
